Welcome to English 10 Honors!

Course Content: During the course of this year, you will learn to appreciate and understand the role of Language Arts as well as develop communication, reading, and writing skills. This course is based on the Common Core State Standards.

Because this is an Honors class, students must maintain at least a C grade to remain in the class. Students earning lower than a C will be on probation for one term. If at that point, they still have not earned a C grade, they will be removed from the class.

School Policies: You are required to abide by all school policies (attendance, discipline, dress, etc.). The SHS mission statement states: Dedicated to Excellence, United in Service, and Educated for Success (DUES). You will be given a DUES score of 50 points at the beginning of each term. It is your responsibility to keep those points by displaying appropriate behavior that is in line with the school policies. You will lose five points every time you are tardy or are found using a cell phone during class. DUES penalties for behavior and lack of preparation for class will be determined as needed. In order for you to be considered on time to class, you must be in your seat and working on the bell work when the bell rings.

Reward: If ALL of your assignments have been turned in and ALL exams and quizzes have been taken, your final grade will be raised 1/3 (i.e. B+ to A-).

Late Work Policy: Assignments that are turned in late will receive a 50% grade deduction. Each student will be given one Oops! pass per term. This may be redeemed in order to turn in a late assignment without penalty. If you do not use your Oops! pass, it does not carry over to the following term. Oops! passes cannot be used on tests or final projects/papers. Bell work cannot be turned in late or made up if absent. Students must be in class and on time to complete the bell work. Three bell work scores will be dropped at the end of the term.

Absences: Your attendance will affect your grade. If you are absent, it is your responsibility to get all missing class work, assignments, and notes. Missing work must be completed within two class periods of being absent. Work turned in after those two class periods is late. Bell work cannot be submitted for the day(s) a student is absent.

Expectations:

Be Prepared – You are expected to be in your seat when the bell rings and to be alert. You should bring all assignments or other needed materials with you to class.

Be Respectful of Others – You will engage in many activities involving discussions and debates. You are expected to participate in these activities in a way that is polite and courteous to your fellow classmates. You are also expected to listen when I am speaking or when another student is making a comment. Inappropriate or disrespectful behavior will not be tolerated.

Be Respectful of Others' Property – Keep the room clean and neat. Return any materials that have been borrowed and be respectful of the property that other students bring to class.

Honor Code: This class will be conducted under an Honor Code. You are expected to be academically honest and to complete and submit only your own work. A brief definition and explanation of what constitutes “plagiarism” is provided below. We will continue to review and discuss methods for avoiding plagiarism as the school year progresses. Should you violate the Honor Code, course penalties will be swift and severe, at a minimum likely to result in the loss of credit for the assignment and/or that term of English.

Plagiarism can be defined as submitting another person’s ideas, words, images, or data without giving that person credit or proper acknowledgement. Plagiarism, a form of academic dishonesty, is equal to stealing and will not be tolerated. In order to clarify what constitutes plagiarism, you should be aware that you have committed plagiarism when you:

- Use phrases, quotes or ideas not your own;
- Paraphrase the work of another even though you may have changed the diction or syntax;
- Use facts or data not considered common knowledge;
- Submit a paper written for another class (academic dishonesty);
- Submit a paper from an essay service or agency even though you may have paid for it
- Submit a paper by another person even though s/he may have given you permission to use it.

You should note that plagiarism not only encompasses written work, but also computer data, research, musical scores, video programs, and visual arts.

Plagiarism is a serious issue, especially in an academic environment. Teachers must be able to rely on the integrity of a student’s work in order to maintain a climate for successful learning. Plagiarism reflects on character; therefore, you should diligently avoid inadvertent plagiarism. When you are unsure if acknowledgement is needed, ask your teacher!
