Welcome to Financial Literacy

The General Financial Literacy Core is designed for Seniors. This class will give students the knowledge they need to become wise and knowledgeable consumers, savers, investors, users of credit, money managers, citizens, and members of a global workforce and society. The General Financial Literacy core will incorporate concepts and skills from mathematics, language arts, social studies, applied technology, character education, and applied service learning.

We will be showing several approved video clips throughout the semester. We will also show Confessions of a Shopaholic and Identity Theft: the Michelle Brown Story in their entirety. Please let me know if there are concerns about any videos being shown.

Attendance

Attendance is critical in Financial Literacy. Daily participation points will be awarded based on attendance, time on task and preparation.

Participation. Each day you can earn or lose 30 points depending on your time on task and preparedness during class.

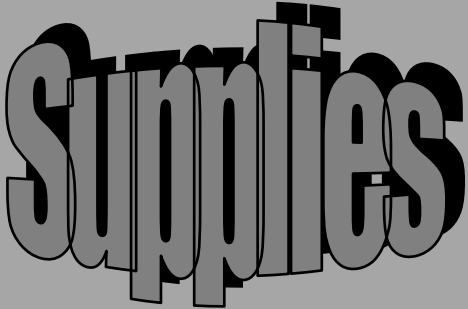

Absences. Every day you are not here (excused or Unexcused) you can lose 30 points. You are held accountable for being here every day and doing your work.

Tardies. You will lose 10-15 of your participation points each day you are tardy.

An investment in knowledge pays the best interest.
